Policy on the Safeguarding of Adults in the Church

Definitions for use with those who may be vulnerable

Any adult aged 18 or over who, by reason of mental or other disability, age, illness or other situation is permanently or for the time being unable to take care of him or herself, or to protect him or herself against significant harm or exploitation.

This could include:

- Physical abuse – the non-accidental infliction of physical force, which results in pain, injury or impairment.
- Emotional abuse – emotional or psychological abuse is behaviour that has a harmful effect on a vulnerable adult's emotional health and development. All abuse of vulnerable people has an emotional impact.
- Neglect – the repeated withholding of adequate care which results in the vulnerable adult's basic needs not being met. It can be intentional or unintentional acts of omission.
- Sexual abuse – is the involvement of a vulnerable adult in sexual activities or relationships, without informed or valid consent.
- Financial or Material abuse – is the denial of access of the individual to money, property, possessions, valuables, or inheritance, or the improper or unauthorised use of funds via omission, exploitation or extortion through threats.
- Discriminatory abuse – including racist and sexist abuse, exists when values, beliefs or culture result in the misuse of power that denies opportunities to some individuals or groups.
- Institutional abuse occurs when an organisation's priorities, policies and practices are more important than individuals' needs and wishes. It includes a failure to ensure that the necessary standards are in place to protect vulnerable adults and maintain good standards of care according to individual choice.
- Domestic abuse – any incident or pattern of incidents of controlling, coercive, threatening behaviour, violence or abuse.
- Spiritual abuse – is not a category of abuse recognised in statutory guidance but is of concern within and outside faith communities. It includes the inappropriate use of religious belief or practice

Members of the congregation should be encouraged to attend basic Diocesan Safeguarding Training.

Every leader and regular pastoral visitor should be given a copy of the policy either paper or via email.

A paper or email copy of the policy will be provided to those members of the congregation who requests one.

The Adult Safeguarding Coordinator is available for further information.

Health & Safety and First Aid

Health and Safety will be managed as part of all church activities. All buildings where church activities take place will be inspected by an appropriate person at least annually in line with the Rothley Parish Church Health and Safety Policy. Health and Safety issues observed by those working within the buildings should be reported to the Adult Safeguarding Coordinator or the Church Buildings Officer.

A First Aid kit will be available on site and checked monthly and updated when required. Old School Rooms in the kitchen and at the back of Church. A logbook for recording incidents/accidents is available with each box.

Leaders of all groups held on church premises have a responsibility to know where the fire exits are situated and the evacuation procedures. They should also know how to contact emergency services. The telephone is in the OSR office and OSR kitchen

The policy was adopted at the Parochial Church Council (PCC) meeting held on Monday 11th November 2024.
